

All About Lakewood

Lakewood Elementary located in the northeast section of Harris County was built in 1962 on four and a half acres of scenic property. It is a part of the North Forest Independent School District.

At the center is our school mascot - the lion, an animal known for its majesty, courage, and bravery. At Lakewood, we are just like lions, majestic in our confidence that with the quality of education the school and the staff are offering, we will have the courage and the bravery to face the challenges that life presents in the future.

The map of Texas illustrates that Lakewood Elementary is an integral part of the State of Texas and its quest for a better future through quality education.

A picture of children of different races joined by hands as they embrace the world represents unity in diversity, which is much celebrated in our school. The ethnicity of Lakewood's population is 57 % Hispanic, 42 % African American, and 1 % other races.

The books represent the focus we have in school, directing our experiences and preparing us to develop academic and behavioral skills, which will enable us to achieve excellence in performance.

The computer and microscope represent our adherence to science and technology, to reach excellence by developing the essential scientific and technological skills at our maximum learning potential.

The paw prints represent our marks as we aim high to meet the mandated state standards for excellent education.

Our campus slogan is "Whatever it Takes, We Educate!" However difficult the path may be, we will get the education we so deserve.

Our school spirit colors are purple and gold. Purple symbolizes royalty whereas gold symbolizes richness in values and goodness. At Lakewood, we are the kings' children and are taught and molded to be good citizens, rich in values and goodness. We are valued and won't be left behind.

Vision for the School

Our principal envisions the students of Lakewood Elementary leaving our campus daily equipped with the skills that will afford them the opportunity to attain success wherever they are.

Our staff's commitment to keeping the students safe while developing/enhancing their ability to think critically will benefit these young people as they face the challenges of an ever-increasing global society.

They will possess the ability to resolve conflicts, communicate effectively, problem solve and interact socially in a positive manner.

Our motto "Whatever It Takes, We Educate!" serves as a notice that the Lakewood Professional Learning Community is committed to the success of the students and we will pledge our ethical and professional allegiance to this purpose.
